No major combat units could be mobilized before 6 months.

The only effective units are motor torpedo boats, minesweepers and minelayers. Total personnel strength is 20,300, which includes 15,000 marine infantry and artillery assigned to Coastal Defense.

There are believed to be 10 fast motor boats under construction as part of a plan to produce two flotillas consisting of 10 motor gun boats and 10 motor torpedo boats. Reports have been received of the Yugoslav intention to commence the building of midget submarines, but such craft may as yet be in the early experimental stage. Special contact mines and reconditioned torpedoes are being produced. Otherwise only small-arms equipment and gun ammunitions are made for the Navy within the country. The source of equipment now on hand is believed to be ex-Italian and ex-German and some reportedly of Russian origin.
